THE ECHO OF 1958

ST. JOHN TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

DYER, INDIANA

VOLUME XX

LAKE COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

From the old into the new . . . from the past into the future . . . from one year to another . . . this breezeway typifies them all. It bridges the gap between the old building, with its antiquated equipment, and the bright new school with up-to-date facilities and modern teaching methods. Through the warm breezes of Indian summer, the icy blasts of snowy winter, and the chilling rains of early spring, students push and jostle their way from one to the other, carrying the echoes of the past into the promise of the future.

Every book is a quotation, and every house is a quotation out of all forests and mines and stone quarries, and every man is a quotation from all his ancestors...

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Needless to say, the 1958 Echo is a quotation, a quotation of the events and activities of the 1957-1958 school year. With this theme in mind, the staff of '58 has prepared for your enjoyment

Echoes Of The Past

The trophy case is also an echo of the past, a mute quotation from sports competitions. Each of the trophies is a symbol of former victories, a memory of past events. If they could talk, these emblems would tell of the blood, sweat, and tears that went into the earning of them--of the hopes and aspirations that the winning of them fulfilled.

FACULTY AND CLASSES

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops...

Henry B. Adams

Administrators

An active mind, a lively sense of humor, and a firm hand are characteristic of MR. FRED JONES, high school principal. He gives advice oftener than penalties, and has earned the respect of the entire student body.

MRS. LELA HOWELL has completed her third year as the efficient school secretary, and is known to all students for her friendly smile and general helpfulness. Because of her twice daily communiques, her voice is as well-known to the school as that of any TV or radio announcer.

To utilize more fully the talents of an extremely able administrator, a new position was created for MR. GEORGE BIBICH. Formerly the high school principal, he is now supervising principal of all township schools, in which capacity he is effecting remarkable improvements in the school system.

A ready smile and unfailing co-operation are characteristic of MRS. KAY TRAPP, school treasurer. With an affinity for figures and a passion for accuracy, she keeps track of all school accounts, first taking the money in and then paying it out.

If an award were to be given to the best township trustee in the land, it would undoubtedly go to MR. DON MORIARTY. It would take several pages to list the things he has accomplished, and the entire school community will be forever grateful to him.

When Mrs. Voreacos was given a leave of absence because of illness, MRS. DOROTHY AINSLEY took over her position as dean of girls. Mrs. Ainsley also teaches government, and sponsors the yearbook and the Senior Drama Club.

A Strong Mind Needs a Strong Body

Whether teaching Latin or health, MRS. RUTH HOFFMAN is quietly efficient. A long time teacher of girls' phys ed, she has had the unusual experience this year of straight classroom work, the phys ed classes having been postponed until next year when the new gym will be completed.

MR. GAINEY DAVIDSON, who has a master's degree in science from Indiana University, is new to Dyer this year. He teaches classes in health and physical science, but is best known to the community as the hard driving football coach. The students in his classes respect his knowledge and his low pressure discipline.

The aim of the health course, according to Mrs. Hoffman, is to teach the girls how the body is put together and how it functions, how to develop strong minds and bodies, and how to get along with people.

The classes use workbooks and notebooks as well as textbooks and, if the picture above is a fair example, appear to enjoy the entire procedure.

Homemaking Can Be Fun

A new teacher, MRS. BARBARA DALTON, has come to Dyer from Shepardsville, Kentucky, where she taught last year. She is a graduate of West Kentucky State, where she received her B. S. degree. Mrs. Dalton's home economics classes include courses in good grooming, nutrition, and sewing.

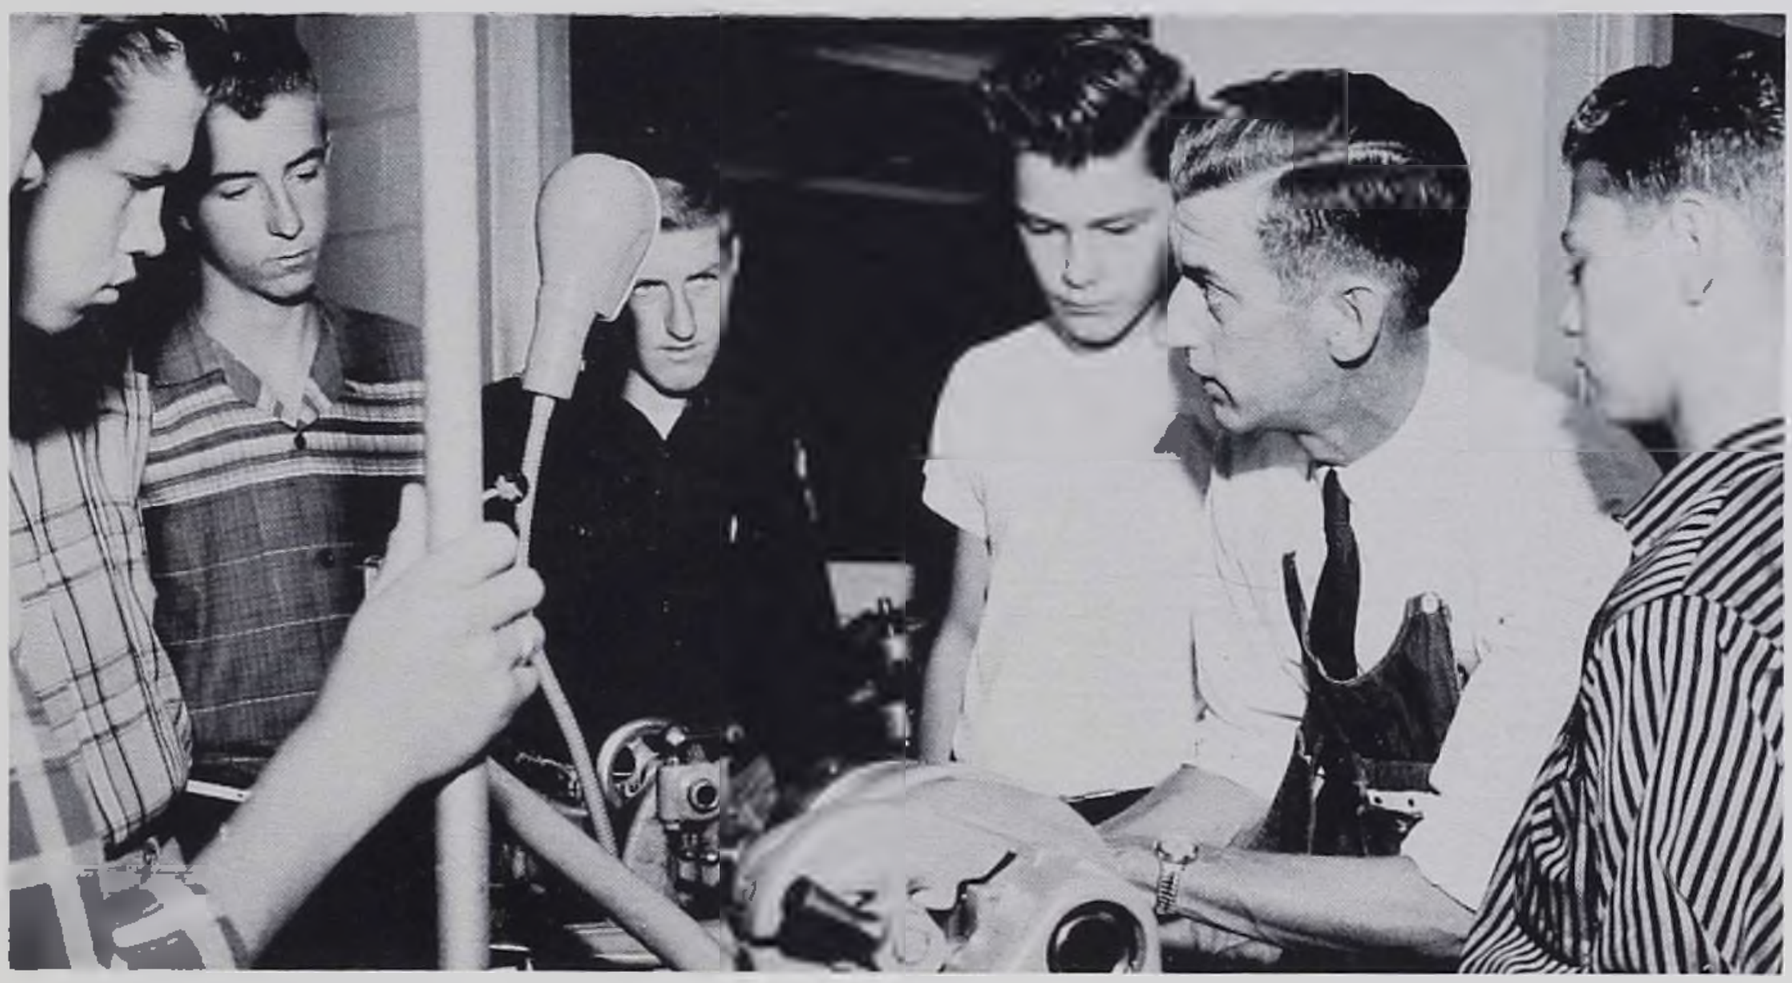
MRS. MARY ORR is back in the homemaking department this year, teaching classes, supervising the cafeteria, sponsoring the Pep and Home Economics Clubs, sitting on the Faculty Review Board, and never running out of cheerful energy.

In the second year homemaking course, the 1st semester is devoted to advanced foods and nutrition, while the 2nd semester takes up child development and home care of the sick, plus a short sewing project. During the period devoted to foods, the girls study meal patterns, and plan meals that are pretty, delicious, and fun to prepare. In the picture above, Terry Miller, Clara Roe, Barbara Robinson, and Sandy Tewell enjoy the cinnamon twists they have made during the study of quick breads.

Shop Department Trains Future Industrialists

Teaching embryonic draftsman how to letter properly and to make working drawings is just one of MR. JOHN LINLEY'S many tasks. In his wood shop classes he teaches the use of all hand tools and emphasizes the use of safety measures in handling power equipment. His students have turned out many professionally finished articles such as pump lamps, TV chairs, coffee tables, desks, and gun cabinets.

A ready smile and a shop apron are characteristic of MR. HERBERT PEARSON. His specialty is metal shop, in which he gives an exploratory course to determine the boys' aptitudes. His students are taught the care and use of hand and machine tools, and basic manufacturing techniques. They have made beautifully crafted tools such as ball peen hammers containing small tools in their hollow handles.



High school boys have a splendid opportunity to become acquainted with the metal machinery used in industrial manufacturing. The shop equipment includes a drill press, a milling machine, a shaper, grinders, and lathes. In the picture above, Mr. Pearson is explaining a counter boring operation on an engine lathe to Tom Ludwig, Pete Elder, Bill Burk, Louis Berg, and Wayne Baker.

Library and Art Appeal to Many Students

Our school librarian, MISS KATHY ARBUCKLE, is shown here checking out a book in her temporary quarters. No student ever finds her too busy to help him find reference material for a term paper or a suitable book for a book report. Miss Arbuckle also sponsors the cheerleaders.

Although most of her classes this year are in the grade school, MRS. LENORA SMITH has one high school group. She is leading the students through a survey of all phases of art, showing how the basic art elements tie in with all forms of art. At Christmas time, the pupils studied the theater arts and made stage sets for their favorite Christmas carols.

From Postulates to Parallelograms

Sines and cosines, arcs and circles - they're all part of the advanced math course. As this is a college preparatory course, it is based on the theory of mathematics rather than practical application. Solid geometry is studied the 1st semester and trigonometry the 2nd. In the classroom above, Barbara Brown and Bee Collard appear to be solving problems, while Bill Wheeler and Charles Johnson examine a blackboard protractor.

As the sign on the background bulletin board shows, MRS. MARY LOUISE ADAMS not only teaches textbook mathematics, but also its everyday use. Although she was here for only one semester, she gave the freshmen in her classes a firm foundation in algebra and general math.

If ∠ PAO= ∠ P'A'O', and MR. KERMIT KERNS > than any of his students, what is the resulting equation? Mr. Kerns teaches plane geometry, advanced math, and physics, but is better known to the student body as the Athletic Director. Sponsoring the sophomore class is another of his activities.

Commercial Classes Are Always Crowded

Teacher of future stenographers is MISS BEULAH HUSTED. In addition to teaching typing and shorthand, she sponsors the Commercial and Sunshine Clubs and manages the bookstore.

MR. BUREN HOOPER, a graduate of Indiana University, has come to Dyer from Rising Sun High School. Although Mr. Hooper's favorite subject is business law, he enjoys teaching typing and bookkeeping, and looks forward to his after school basketball coaching. He is a prime favorite with all students.

MR. RAYMOND JONES, a newcomer to Dyer High School this year, is a graudate of Indiana University. He is shown here explaining the placement of typewriter keys to one of his typing classes. The pupils in his classes progress rapidly, and consider him a fine instructor.

Social Studies Make Good Citizens

MRS. BARBARA CONNOR began the year as a substitute, but soon became a full time teacher. With two classes in government, two in speech, and one in senior English, she has scarcely a moment to call her own.

Young and energetic, MR GLEN EBERLY is one of the most popular faculty members. After teaching classes in world history, sociology, and economics, he finds time to sponsor the Lettermen's Club, to coach the baseball squad, to serve on the Faculty Review Board, and to help out anywhere else he is needed.

MR. ROBERT MYGRANTS teaches his United States history classes the importance of understanding the present through knowing the past. Current events, news films, and maps are among the teaching aids he uses.

Senior Dennis Myland is explaining to his government class how the freedom of our American way of life can be traced back to England in 1189.

"Speak the Speech, I Pray You, As I Pronounced It to You----"

An attractive addition to the English department is MRS. JANET CRISCO, graduate of West Glenville State, West Virginia. Mrs. Crisco teaches junior English, breaking the monotony of infinitives, participles, and such with Mark Twain, Edgar Allen Poe, and other American greats.

Undaunted by a steady diet of freshman English classes last year, MR. JOHN PETROFF returned this year for more of the same. Occasionally he plays his piccolo for his classes or reads some of his original writings to them.

A very busy man is MR. ROSCOE PROTSMAN. Practically at the break of day he starts supervising the arrival of the school buses, during the day he teaches sophomore English, and after school he expedites the departure of buses. In addition he directs the visual education program.

Amo, Amas, Amat------

A familiar smile and a typical pose! MR. LOUIS IACONETTI, instructor in Latin and Driver's Training, deserves his popularity with the students. Whether it's clicking a camera shutter, supervising a dance, or overseeing the coke bar, he is always ready, willing, and cheery. As junior class sponsor, he has had a busy year, keeping 122 juniors on the straight and narrow.

Miss Pierce is always willing to lend a helping hand to any Spanish student who needs it. Here she is checking to see if the class is understanding the lesson.

A teacher who tremendously enjoys the subject she teaches is MISS RUTH PIERCE, and the subject is Spanish. Her bulletin boards are always filled with items pertaining to Spain and Mexico, and her students learn not only the language, but also the Spanish way of life. In addition to the Spanish Club, Miss Pierce sponsors the school newspaper.

Biology and Music, Too

Whether it's feeding the living or dissecting the dead, the laboratory is the place to do it, and MR. ERNEST VEREB is always in firm control. He teaches a chemistry course as well, and sponsors the senior class.

A newcomer to Dyer High this year is MR. DOUGLAS JORDAN, the band director, who comes to Dyer from Roosevelt College, Chicago. He has given the band a tremendous boost, and he has the enthusiastic support of both school and community.

Bill Dewes, Pam Dicks, and John Erdelles--three students from Mr. Davidson's biology class --are shown here studying the growth of water plants.

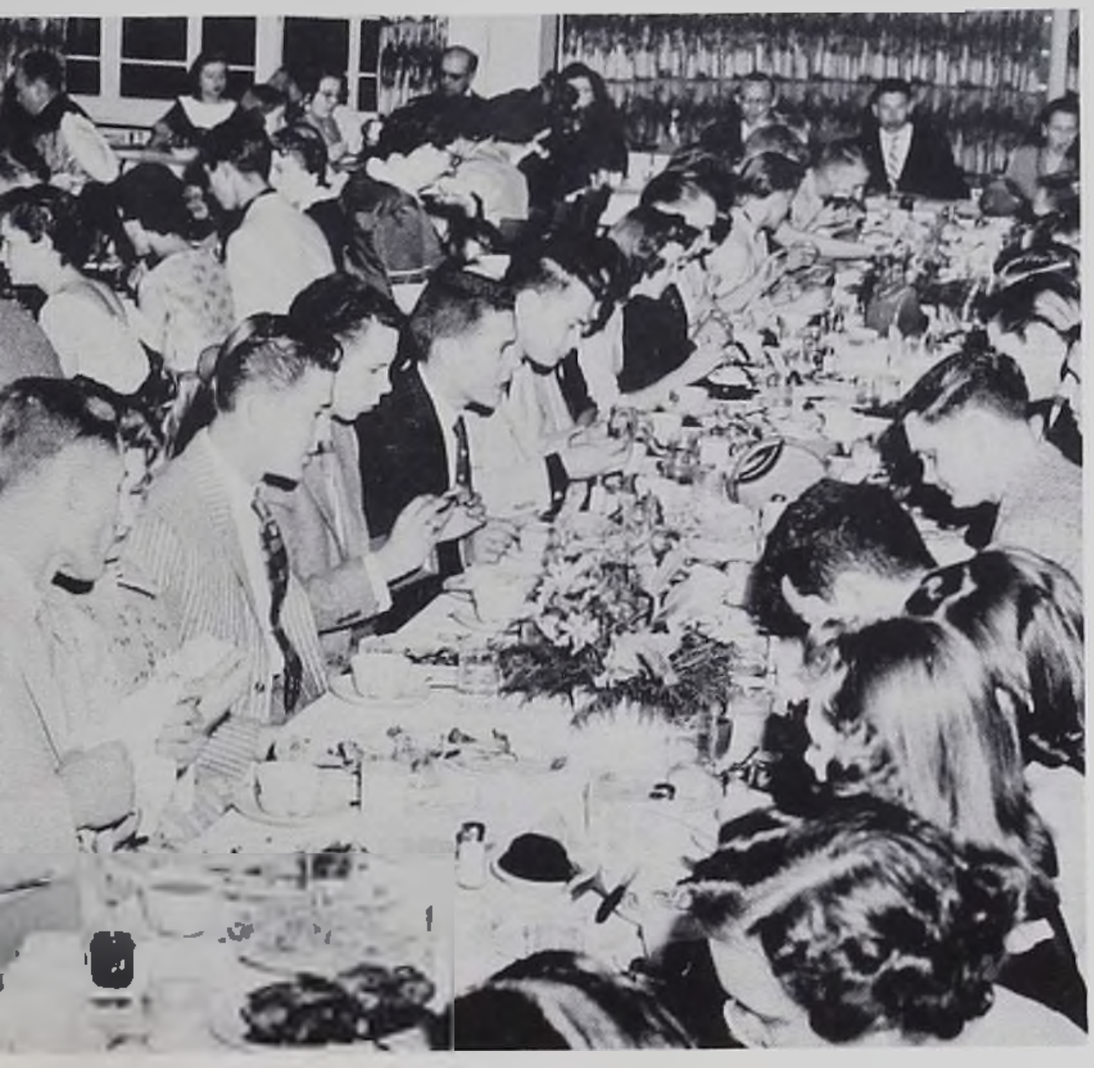
Here the seniors are honored as Dyer students for the last time. Four unforgettable years of high school life -- fun, work, and a few disappointments -- are brought to a close as the class of '57 gratefully accepts their diplomas.

Banquet and Prom Highlight School Year

The present seniors were hosts last year at the Junior-Senior Banquet at Teibel's Restaurant, April 17th, where fried chicken was the featured entertainment. Bob Schwenke was an eloquent toastmaster and shared the limelight with speakers from both classes.



Prom King and Queen

Linda Lawrosky and Jim DeGoey proudly pose after being chosen queen and king of the 1957 Junior-Senior Prom which was held at Lake Hills Country Club. Rhythmical dance music was provided by the Diplomats and, needless to say, a good time was had by all.

The Student Council is made up of one elected representative from each home room and meets in regular session once a week. Its purpose is to give the student body a voice in the formulation of school policies, and to recommend activities or procedures that will improve the school as a whole. This year it sponsored and financed the instaliation of an artificial ice skating rink which was a huge success. Members of the Student Council are: SITTING: Marcia Yates, Gail Ciaglia, Stan Huseman, vice-president; Sharon Gard, president; Judy Gilliam, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Patchman, and Diana Duncan. STANDING: Mary Sue Gerlach, Kathleen Lohse, Sandra Tewell, Evelyn Redar, Terry Miller, Peggy Stephen, Sharon Boucher, Ronald Graham, Steve Arndt, and Mr. Fred Jones, sponsor.

Student Laws and Student Applause

The Pep Club's vigor and enthusiasm have aided both the school and its athletes in many ways.

Officers of the Pep Club are: Pat Cavan, vice-president; Monica Sabo, president; Pat Urbahns, treasurer; Mrs. Orr, sponsor; Cecilia Smith, secretary.

The cheerleaders in action.

The Lettermen's club, under the capable sponsorship of Mr. Glen Eberly, has improved with the years until now it is one of the most highly respected organizations in school. Its projects include sponsoring the Homecoming dance, organizing the Lettermen's banquet, and purchasing the Lettermen's jackets. Those pictured are: BACK ROW: David Doeing, Bob Kilander, Richard Gerlach, Roy Segert, Bob Rakoczy, Ron Hanson, Jim Tewell, Tom Jostes, Jim Peifer, Andy Pepkowski, Jerry Patchman. MIDDLE ROW: Bill Weaverling, Harold Hilbrich, Frank Stark, Tom Miller, Albert Yelich, Bill Crowley, James Topa, Chuck Schwader, Al Betz, Tom Freeman. FRONT ROW: Kenneth Bohling, Dennis Hanson, Andy Reed, Frank Keilman, Jerry Hilbrich, Bill Johanson, Bob Schwenke and Mr. Glen Eberly.

STANDING: Gurney Davidson, Buren Hooper, Glen Eberly.

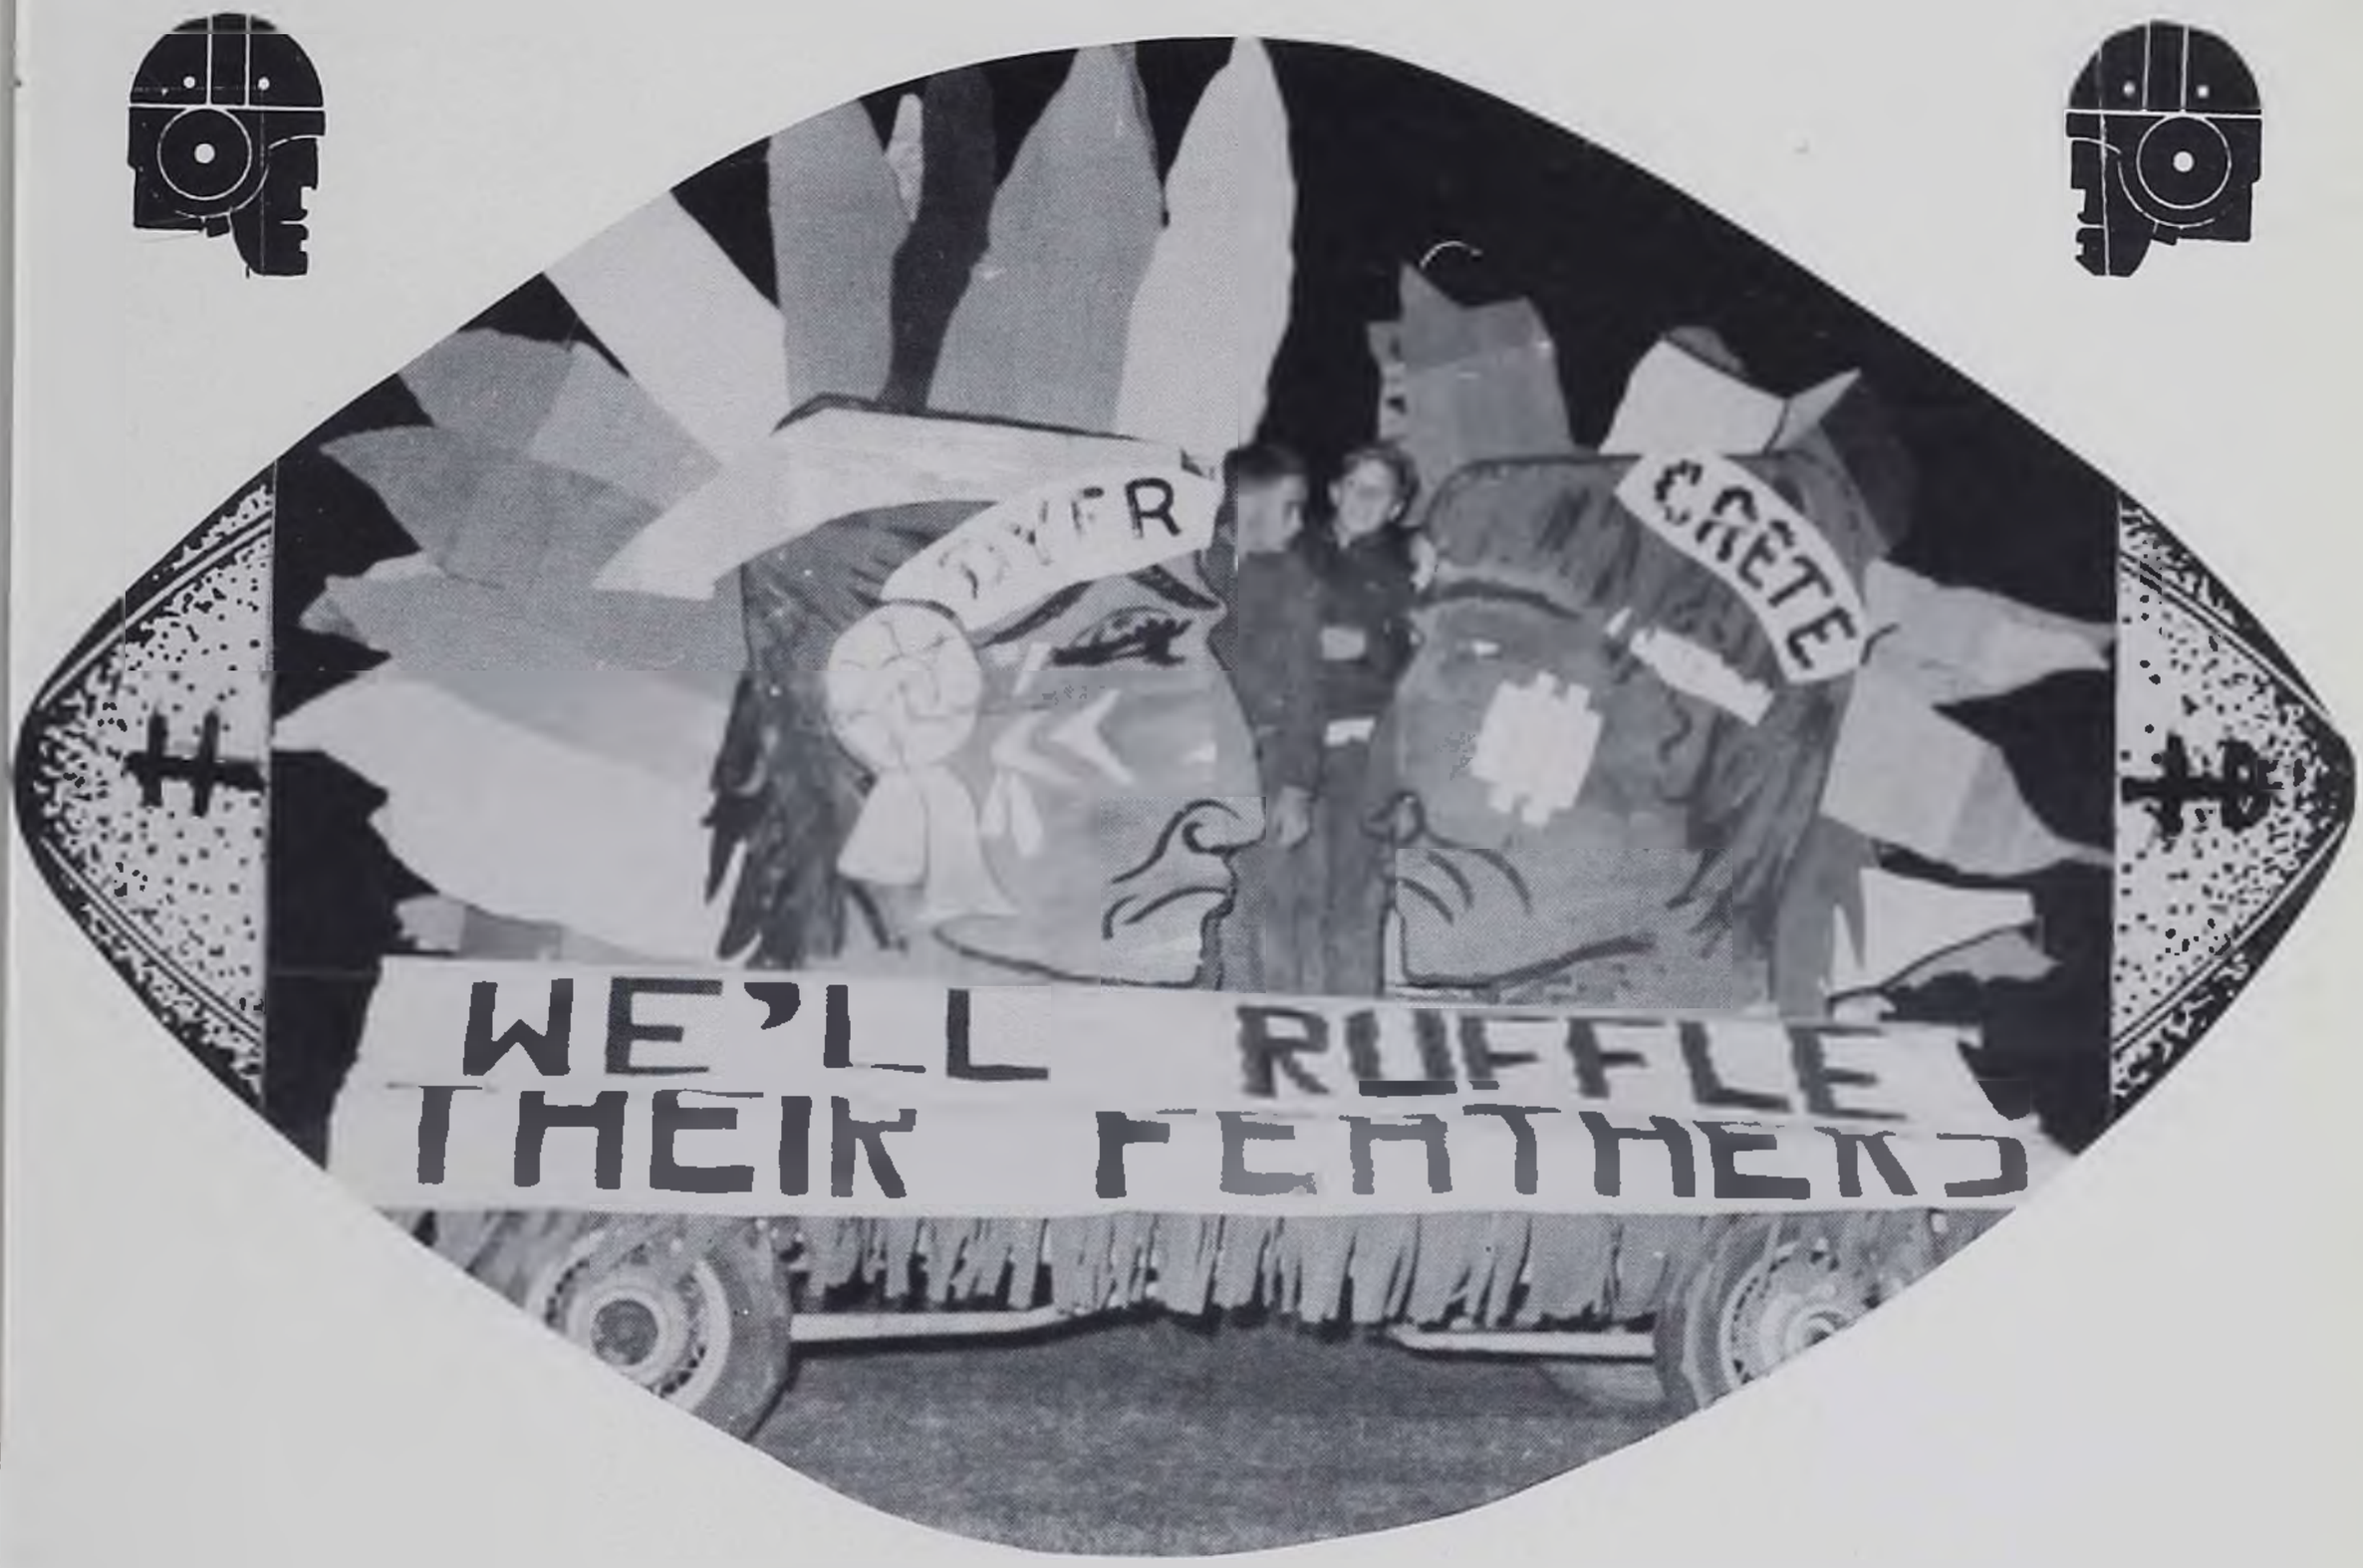
Seniors Spotlight Homecoming

Sharon Gard and Andy Pepkowski, pictured above, were the royal personages who presided over the annual Homcoming game and dance. As representatives of the senior class, they were elected queen and king, and the announcement of them as the winners climaxed a very successful Homecoming.

The candidates of the three other classes added all the more sparkle to a memorable Homecoming. They are: juniors Norman Houston and Linda Yates; sophomores, Bill Crowley and Mary Lou Hinton; and freshmen, Harry Kilander and Bonnie Bucha.

1957 Homecoming Rally



And "Ruffle Their Feathers" we did!
This picturesque application of a fine theme drew a first place ribbon for the freshmen of Mrs. Orr's home room in the annual float contest on the eve of the Homecoming football game.

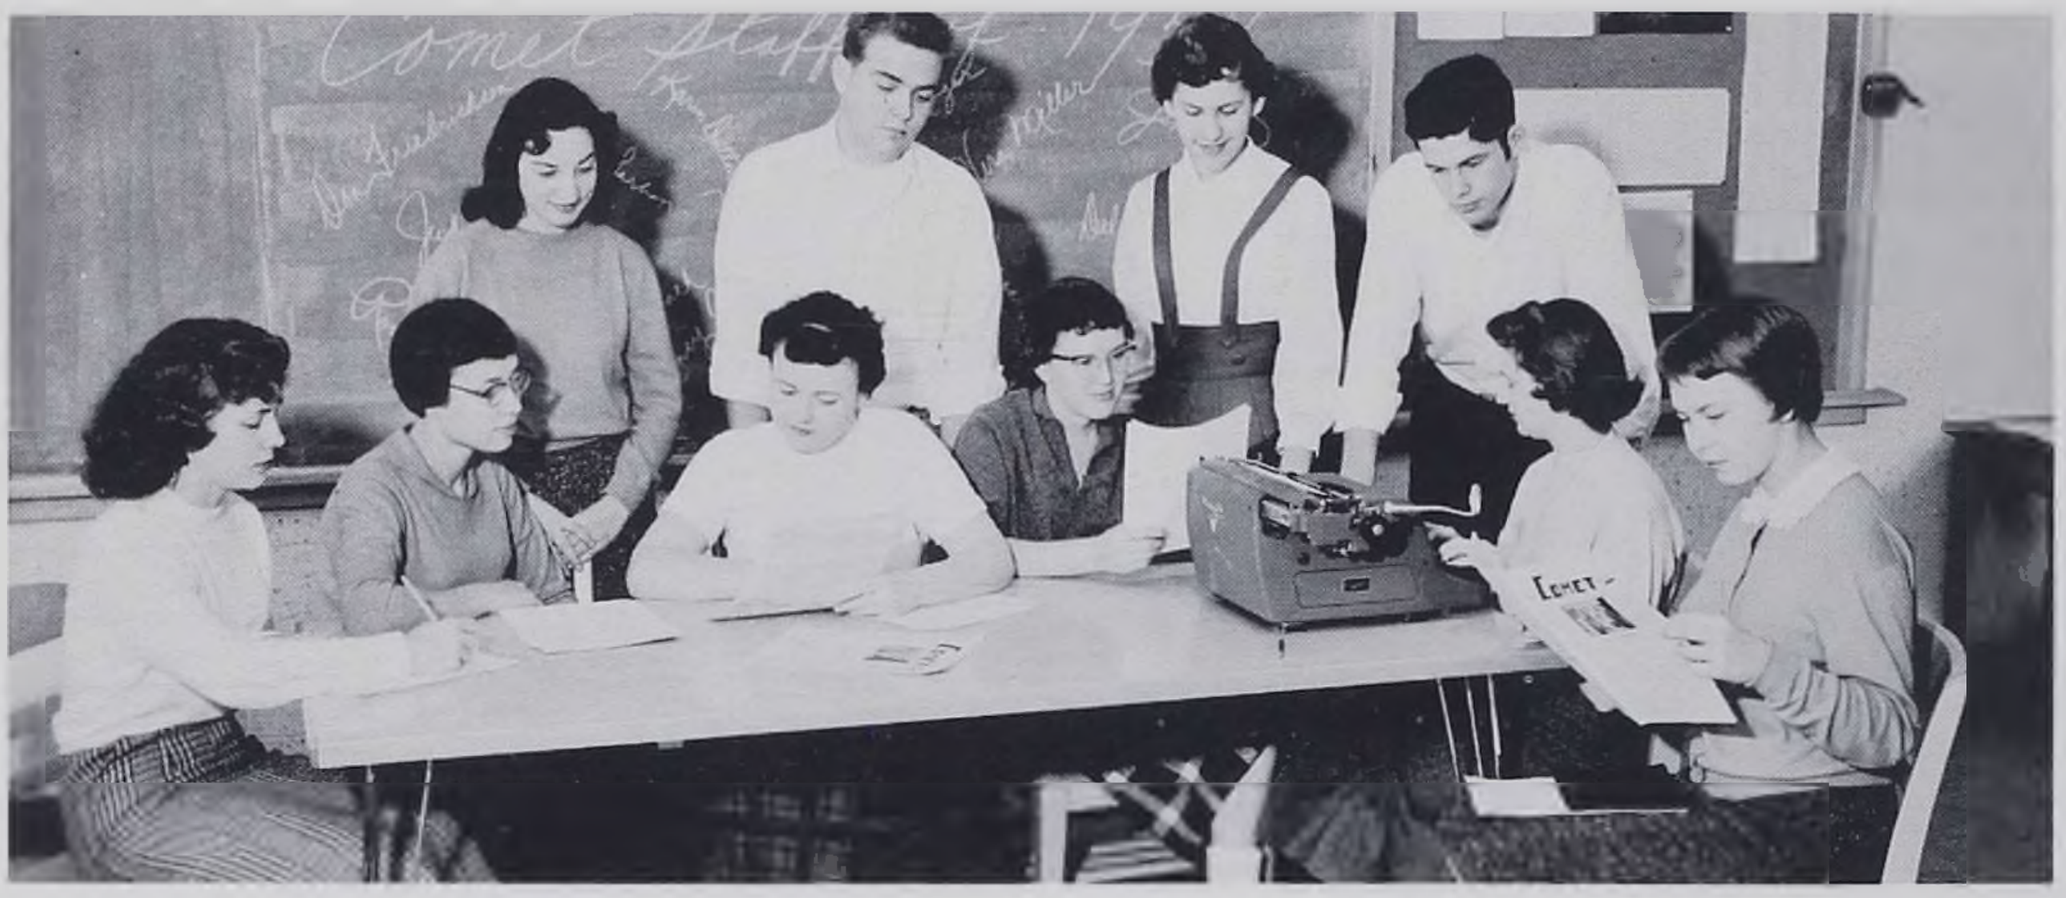
THE COMET



"Who's writing headlines?" "Where's that interview?" "When do I get the typewriter?" These are typical comments to be heard in the Comet room when the staff is getting ready to send another issue to press. The school newspaper is published at least once a month, and the credit for it is due to the staff members. In the picture above are: STANDING: Sharon Hanrath, Donald Friedricksen, Monica Sabo (editor), and Jim Peifer. SEATED: Karen Dutton, Joann Sarbon, Vera Miller, Nancy Arndt (editor), Sharon Dewes, and Sandra Lawrosky.

Miss Pierce, sponsor of the Comet staff, makes the final check.

The active Homemaking Club is working hard to qualify for membership in Future Homemakers of America. During this year it has bought new sewing machines for the department, presented a fashion show for P.T.A., assisted in preparing and serving the P.T.A. Harvest Dinner, and planned a number of other social functions. The picture at the right shows the executive board members who are: SEATED: Sharon Bryant, Cecilia Smith, Janet Keilman, Lyn Hilbrich, Robbin Burnison; STANDING: Sponsor Mrs. Orr, Darlene Boling, and Sharon Bickham.

Las Lenguas De Atras Tierras

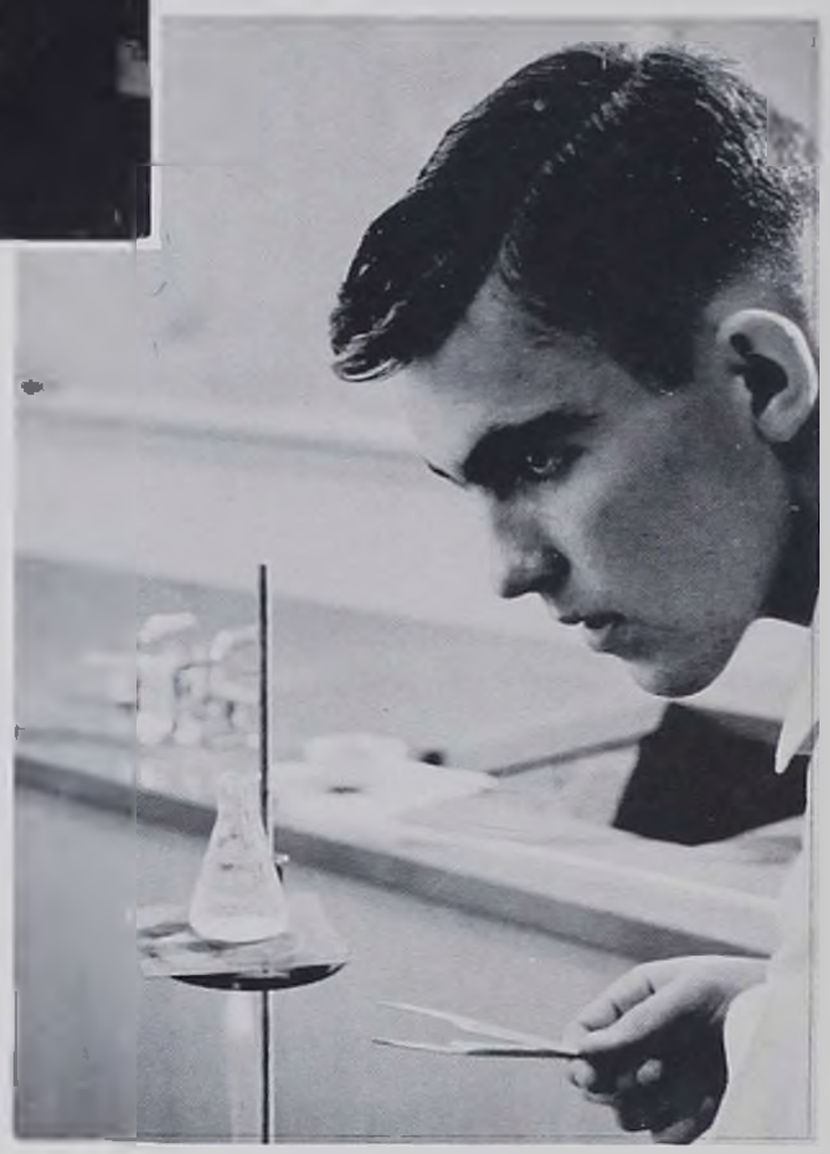
The Latin Club is sponsored by Mrs. Hoffman who is again teaching Latin after years of health and physical education classes. She is shown here with members of her Latin club. STANDING: Gloria Curtis, Alice Dust, Barbara Spinozzi, Steven Arndt, Sharon Boucher, Janice Czech, Ronald Graham, Pat Fane, Martha Grove, and Mrs. Hoffman. Pat Herman is seated.

The Spanish club was organized by Miss Ruth Pierce in order to give her Spanish students a better idea of how the Spanish people talk and live, hoping in this way to interest the students in their Spanish classes. Paul Green, the treasurer, is seen wearing a Spanish hat; Ray McMullen, secretary, holds the Spanish text book; Peggy Stephens, president, holds a castinet, while Joann Sarbon and Nancy Arndt, vice-president, look on.

Club Work Supplements Class Work

As expressed in its constitution, the aims of the Science Club are to increase knowledge in science, perfect skills in science, give service to the community, understand the importance of science in life, and to further science in the school. The earnest young scientists shown above are: STANDING: Mr. Vereb, sponsor, Ken Rudisel, Tom Austgen, Larry Karsten, Richard Bunyard, Lorin Clemenz; SEATED: Robbin Burnison, Bill Weaverling, and Jim Berg.

All great scientists at one time conducted simple experiments such as the one Bill Weaverling is performing below. He is attentively watching a highly reactive chemical solution, waiting for the exact moment to drop in a sulphuric substance.

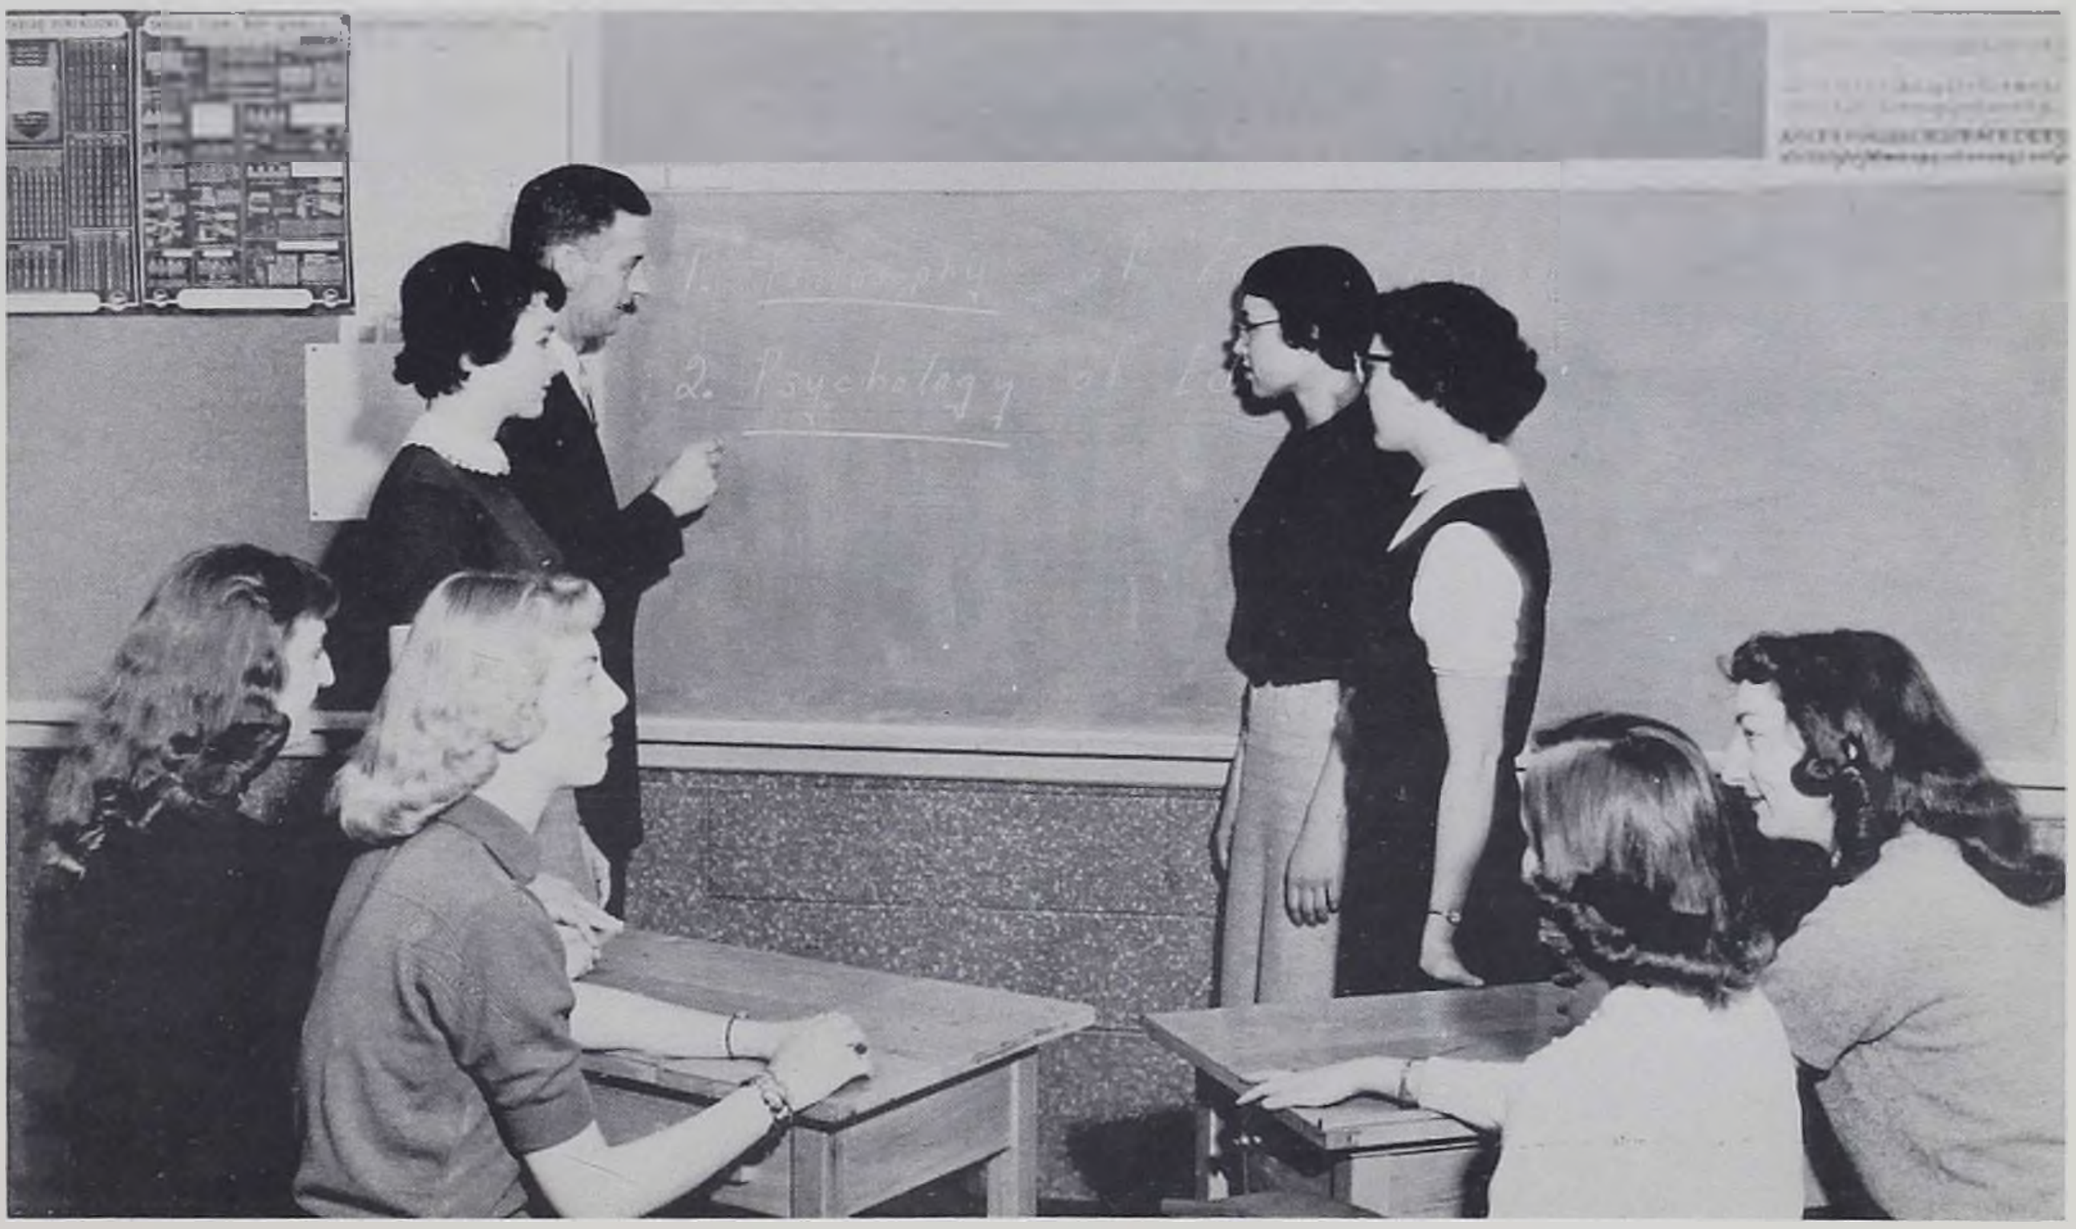


The most important project of the Commercial Club is the management of the school book store which handles books and general supplies for the entire student body. Profits are used to buy equipment for the commercial department, and early purchases this year included two Monroe calculators and an adding machine. Pictured above are Miss Beulah Husted and Mr. Ray Jones, sponsors; Edith Butler, Irene Tkacz, Virginia Ruiz, and Frances Schilling are standing, while Vera Miller and Lillian Bukowski work the adding machines.

A newly organized club at Dyer is the Vivian Voreacos chapter of the national organization, the Future Teachers of America. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in the teaching profession and to acquaint members with the philosophy and ideals of educators. STANDING: Judy Fitzpatrick, Martha Bamber, Pat Parris, Pat Cavan, Alice Dust, Judy Gilliam, Betty Pruitt, Mrs. Hoffman, and Phyllis Cadwell. SEATED: Bea Collard, vice-president; Nancy Arndt, reporter; Joann Sarbon, president; Sharon Hanrath, secretary; and Barbara Brown, treasurer.

Dyer Trains Tomorrow's Teachers

A small group of the F.T.A. are doing cadet teaching, under the guidance of Mr. Herbert Pearson. They spend one hour a day assisting grade school teachers, and two periods a week receiving training from Mr. Pearson. They are all enthusiastic about the work and eager to go to college to continue their preparation for future teaching. STANDING: Mr. Pearson, Pat Cavan, Joann Sarbon, and Nancy Arndt. SEATED: Gail Cialiga, Judy Gilliam, Phyllis Caldwell, and Sharon Hanrath.



Sunshine Girls Serve Others

The Sunshine Society, an organization for Indiana high school girls, was formed in the 1920's as a service club. There are 200 chapters, one of which is the very active group at Dyer. The activities this year began with an evening initiation of new members and a reception for the mothers, continued with the Christmas Tree Formal and Easter baskets for the Carmelite Orphanage for boys, and ended with a flower decorated birthday banquet in honor of its twelfth birthday. The activities of the 150 members are planned by the officers and executive board shown above. From left to right they are: STANDING: Evelyn Redar, Karen Dutton, Margie Helmer, Pat Urbahns, Irene Tkacz, and Martha Grove; SEATED: Martha Lea Stewart, recording secretary, Donna Springer, corresponding secretary, Cecilia Smith, president, Margaret Nichols, treasurer, and Ktthy Gerlach. Loretta Hill, the vice-president, was absent when the picture was taken.

Miss Beulah Husted (center), assisted by Miss Ruth Pierce and Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, has sponsored the Dyer chapter of the Sunshine Society for twelve years. During that time many projects for both school and community have been successfully carried out, and countless girls have discovered the happiness that comes from serving others.

elores Moisoff Is Queen of Christmas Tree Ball

The most exciting mid-winter social event each year is the Sunshine Society Formal. This year it was called the Christmas Tree Ball, and the theme was carried out by the large Christmas tree in the center of the gym floor. After the queen was crowned, the dancers joined hands around the tree to sing "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas", and the next dance was led by the queen and escort.

Delores Moisoff, representing the junior class, was crowned queen, and her attendants were Diana Stephen (freshman), Marilyn Zuvich (sophomore), and Karen Dutton (senior).

Dyer High's Majorettes have added rhythm and color to many of our festivities. They marched in the Hallowe'en parade and are busily strutting and twirling for events to come in the future. Resplendent in their gold and blue uniforms, complete with shiny white boots, they are: Mary Gaskill, Joyce Dado, Beverly Fleschner, Mary Long and Jennie Satterlee.

Twirling and Tooting Make Fun For All

Even though the band is not the largest in the land, hopes are high for the future. Under the capable direction of Mr. Douglas Jordan, it will continue to grow, instrument by instrument, and section by section.Band members seated left to right are: Earl Ciaglia, Dennid Myland, Allan Betz, Frances Byerly, Judy Bunyard, Roxanne Williams, Bill Schiffbauer, and Dexter Graves.

The Candid Camera

Ah, at last it's lunch time. This group of seniors seem to be using the forty-five minute break for talking as well as eating. Pictured counterclockwise are: Irene Tkacz, Leroy Miller, Clarence Kistler, Diana Duncan, and Bob Schwenke.

The coke bar, which was leased to the junior class by the Student Council, was a profitable venture. The juniors, who finance the prom and banquet, are going all out to raise funds for their purpose. Bill Mathews and Lem Ols stand behind the counter ready to serve all of the eager customers.

Junior class rings have arrived! Edward McBride, Michalene Vrabel, Janet Keilman, and Tom Austgen gaze with envy at Marjorie Wilson's ring. The juniors have looked forward to this day for almost three years.

Jamaican Holiday Lures Dancers

For its annual formal dance, the Echo staff presented A JAMAICAN HOLIDAY on March 7th. The colorful decorations included wind-swept palm trees along the side of the gym, and a spectacular sunburst on the silk draped stage. Posing in front of THE KEYNOTES are the girls who represented the school clubs in competition for the coveted title of Miss Echo of 1958. The girls are from left to right: Judeen Thiel, Miss Commerce; Bea Collard, Miss F.T.A.; Monica Sabo, Miss Comet; Janice Czech, Miss Pep; Sue Plimpton, Miss Echo; Irene Tkacz, Miss Sunshine; Sandra Lawrosky, Miss Drama; Linda Newlin, Miss Lettermen; Linda Ericks, Miss Spanish; and Margie Fogarty, Miss Homemaker.

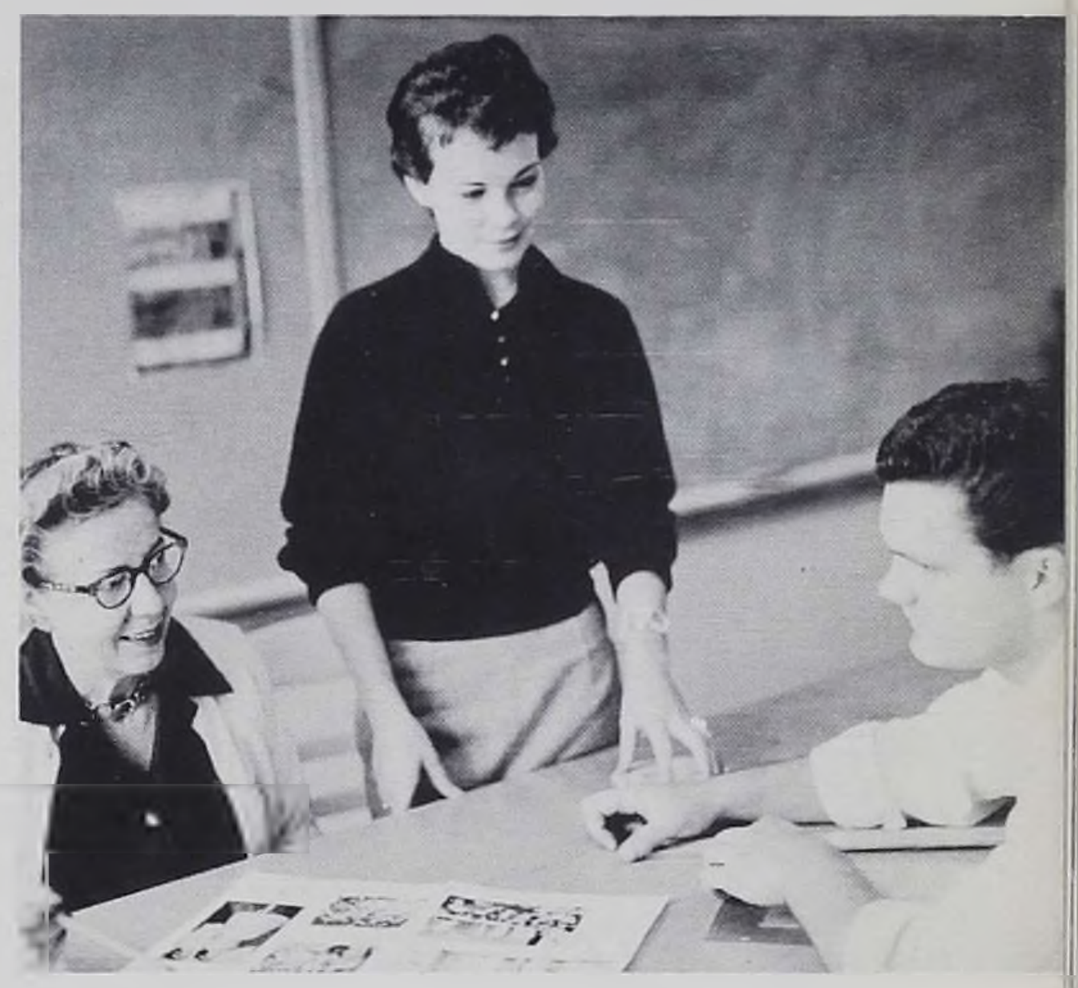
Queen for the night was the Lettermen Club's candidate, pretty Miss Linda Newlin. Linda, a sophomore, is shown here flashing that winning smile that helped her capture the title and crown.

Caught by the camera against a background of gaudily painted Jamaican figures, this group of party-goers appears to be sitting out a dance number - - perhaps for greater listening pleasure.

Glimpse Into the Making of a Yearbook

Layouts, copy forms, headings . . . names, dates, stories . . . can that deadline possibly be met? But of course it is, and the Echo staff relaxes for a week or so before the next period of feverish activity. The yearbook is a pictorial history of the school year, and is the result of careful planning and loving labor. In the picture above, the camera caught some of the staff members in an uncharacteristic calm and quiet. From left to right they are: SITTING: Barbara Brown, Sue Plimpton, Bob Schwenke, Irene Tkasz, Vivian Britton, Sharon Gard, Roy Segert, Joe Paris, Mike Weeks; STANDING: Leroy Miller and Jim Boller.

Business manager Paul Green seems to be passing the buck to editors Diana Duncan and Judy Stark as he interrupts their preparation of the dummy. A successful advertising campaign and careful pre-planning are essential to the production of a good yearbook.



Mrs. Ainsley, sponsor, explains to Kay Bly and Bob Kilander the difference between good and poor picture layouts. Staff members learn many things while producing their book - - proportion and balance, colorful copy writing, aggressive salesmanship and, of course, patience, precision, and perserverance.

The seniors shown above represented the Senior Drama Club when they presented the class play, THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED. A fine production was given to an enthusiastic audience and it is hoped that the presentation of this play will set a precedent for future classes.

Throughout the year, various organizations have contributed to school spirit by giving lively skits at the pep sessions. The seniors had an upper hand in this skit. Representing "Tired Wheatfield" are: CLOCKWISE: Loretta Hill, Kay Bly, Vivian Britton, Judy Norris, and Sandy Lawrosky. The Indians are Pat Charters and Margie Smith.

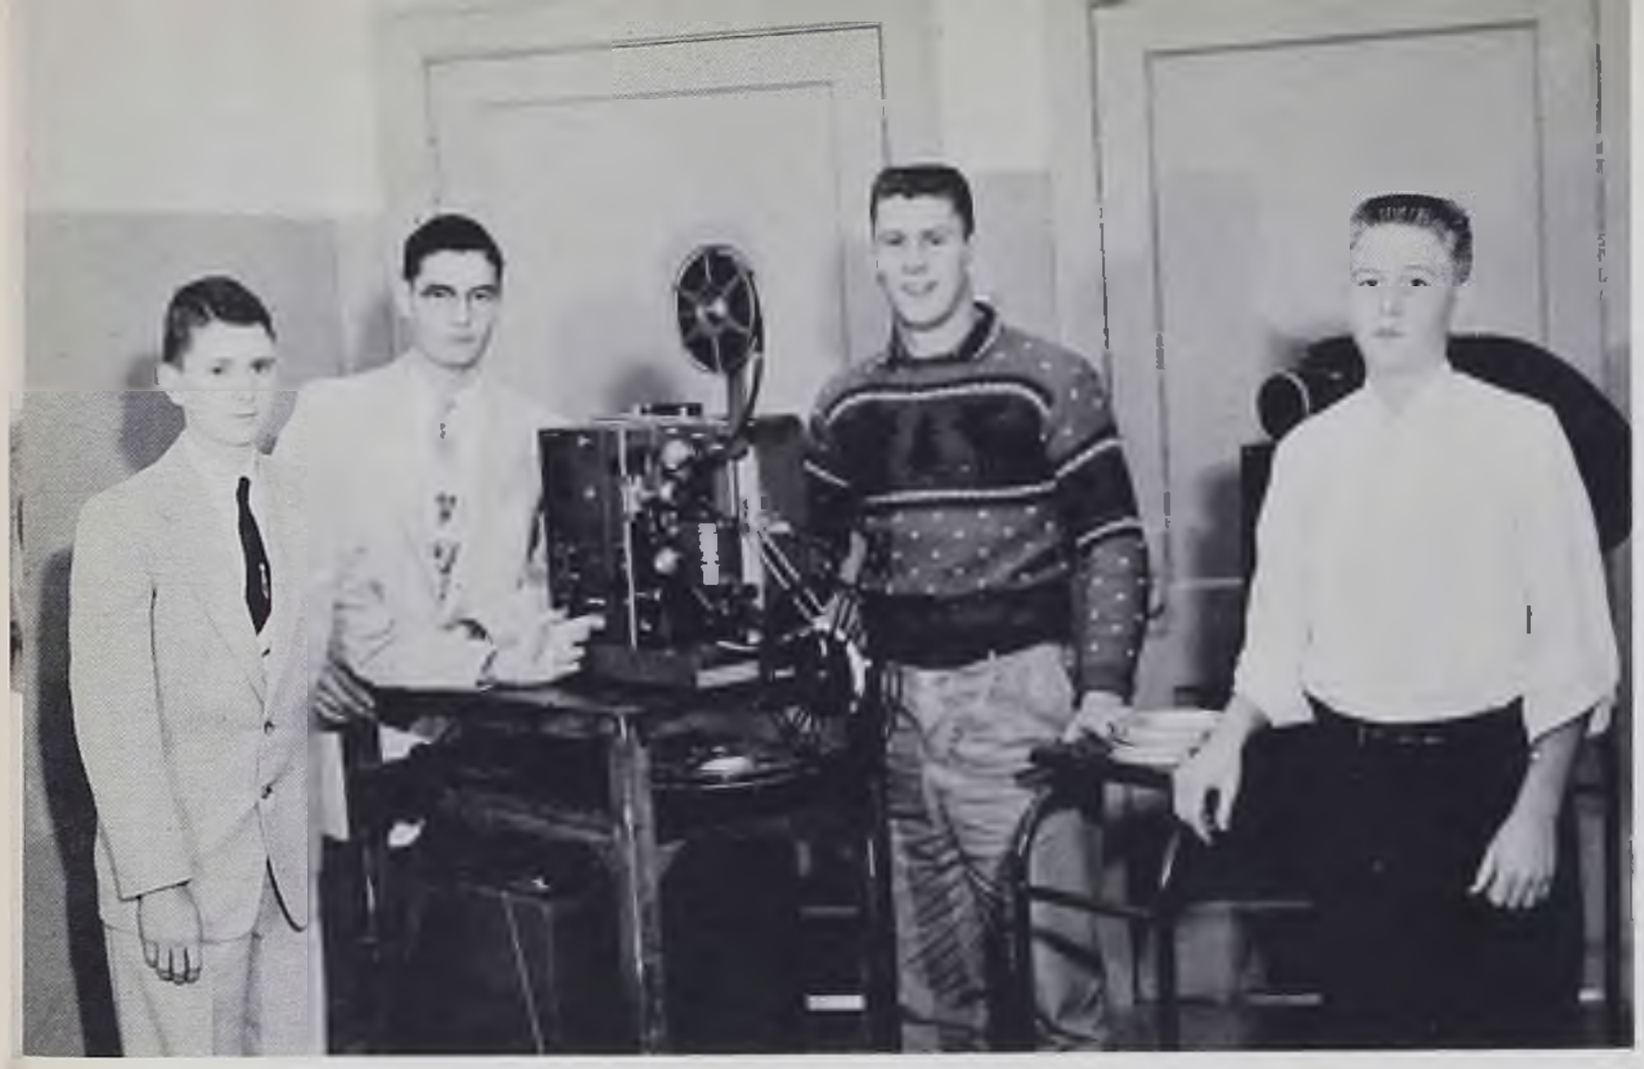
More Seniors

Who but a senior would forget his locker combination? Fortunately, Howard Richardson comes to the rescue of forgetful Clarence Kistler.

No senior page would be complete without this year's Jacketmen. The blue and gold jackets symbolize the hours of time and effort the boys spend to make our school a real contender in the major sports of football, basketball and baseball. STANDING:Mr. Eberly, Allen Betz, Jim Peifer, Tim Topa, Bob Kilander, Bill Rakoczy, and Andy Pepkowski. SEATED: Bob Schwenke, Tom Jostes, Roy Segert, Ron Hanson, and Jim Tewell.

It isn't very often that the seniors have a chance to be completely idle, as they are in the picture to the right. The camera caught this group as they were dawdling in the hall, waiting until the very last minute to go to class. The girls in the foreground are: Marilyn Smith, Joan Reitman, Sharon Gard, Loretta Hill, Joann Sarbon, and Judeen Thiel.

The temporary partition between the government classroom and the library reveals as well as conceals. The shot at the left might be used for an essay on the relationship between feet and personality



The boys at the left are the unheralded workers who give their class time and their projectional abilities for the benefit of students who enjoy the break in classroom routine for a movie. They are: Dick Stromquist, Clarence Schelfo, Jim Tewell, and Frank Stark.

Humble, but Noble Workers

Every play requires a stage, and every stage requires a maintenance crew. The eager workers below (Dave Maschger, Ron Mitchell, and Roy Lax) can boast faultless operation of the stage and its complexities throughout the year.

Pictured below are the St. John Township bus drivers, the men whose punctuality in ferrying the students to and from school is deeply appreciated by all. They are: Tony

Mrs. Sophie Dinges, Sandy Tewell, and Mrs. Pansy Cathey are shown performing their respective duties in the cafeteria kitchen. The work of these able individuals is accomplished with one goal in mind--to provide a tasty repast for the students and teachers at lunchtime.

Two members of the school staff whose usefulness is of great benefit to the maintenance of the school are the two dependable men below: Pete Keilman and Fritz Jung.

Grau, Freeman O. Goodge, Frank Hillbrich, Joe Stevens, Marvin McBee, Robert Jung, Louis Hankins, and Joe Hoffman.

1957 Football Squad

On September 6, Coach Gainey Davidson's Indians started the 1957 football season on an unhappy note by losing to Portage 21-0. The following week Dyer journeyed to Merrillville only to be stymied again, 26-0. On September 20, the Indians lost a tough battle to Gary Edison, the latter winning in the final quarter 27-7. A week later Dyer triumphed with their first win of the season over Morocco. It was a rough game with Dyer showing both fight and determination to down Morocco 12-0.

It was homecoming for Gary Wirt, the eventual winners of the Calumet Conference, when they defeated the Indians 39-0. Dyer was again outmanned as they lost to Griffith 31-6 in one of the coldest games of the season. The Indians rebounded with a victory over Crete-Monee 26-0 on October 18. The previous win seemed to encourage the Indians for they thumped the East Gary Eagles on a muddy field 13-7. The last game of the year was played against a fighting Lowell team. The Indians played hard the entire game but could never muster a touchdown drive and lost 31-0. All in all, Dyer may look forward to future years as there are many returning underclassmen who have proven themselves worthy of wearing a Dyer High uniform.

Coach Hooper

Dyer's new basketball coach, tall, blonde Buren Hooper, has done well during his first season at Dyer. Last year he had a fine, winning team at Rising Sun, Indiana, and now he is using his extensive basketball knowledge and strict squad discipline to build a winning team at Dyer. Starting in a new gym next year, Mr. Hooper's players will be constantly striving to improve the team. Coach Hooper closed the season with an 8 and 13 record, losing to East Chicago Roosevelt in the sectional 69 to 39.

Dyer's Future Varsity Shows Great Potential

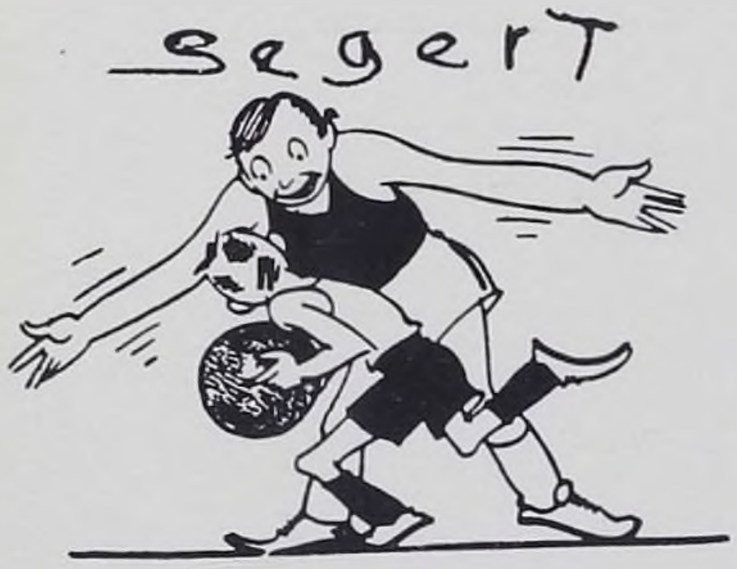
Coach Davidson

Mr. Gainey Davidson, in his rookie year at Dyer, piloted the B-Team to a 500 basketball season with 9 wins and 9 losses. Many of the B-Team boys have gained a lot of valuable experience and hope to play on Coach Hooper's varsity squad next season. With several freshmen and sophomores on the squad, Dyer can look for a fine varsity in the next few years.

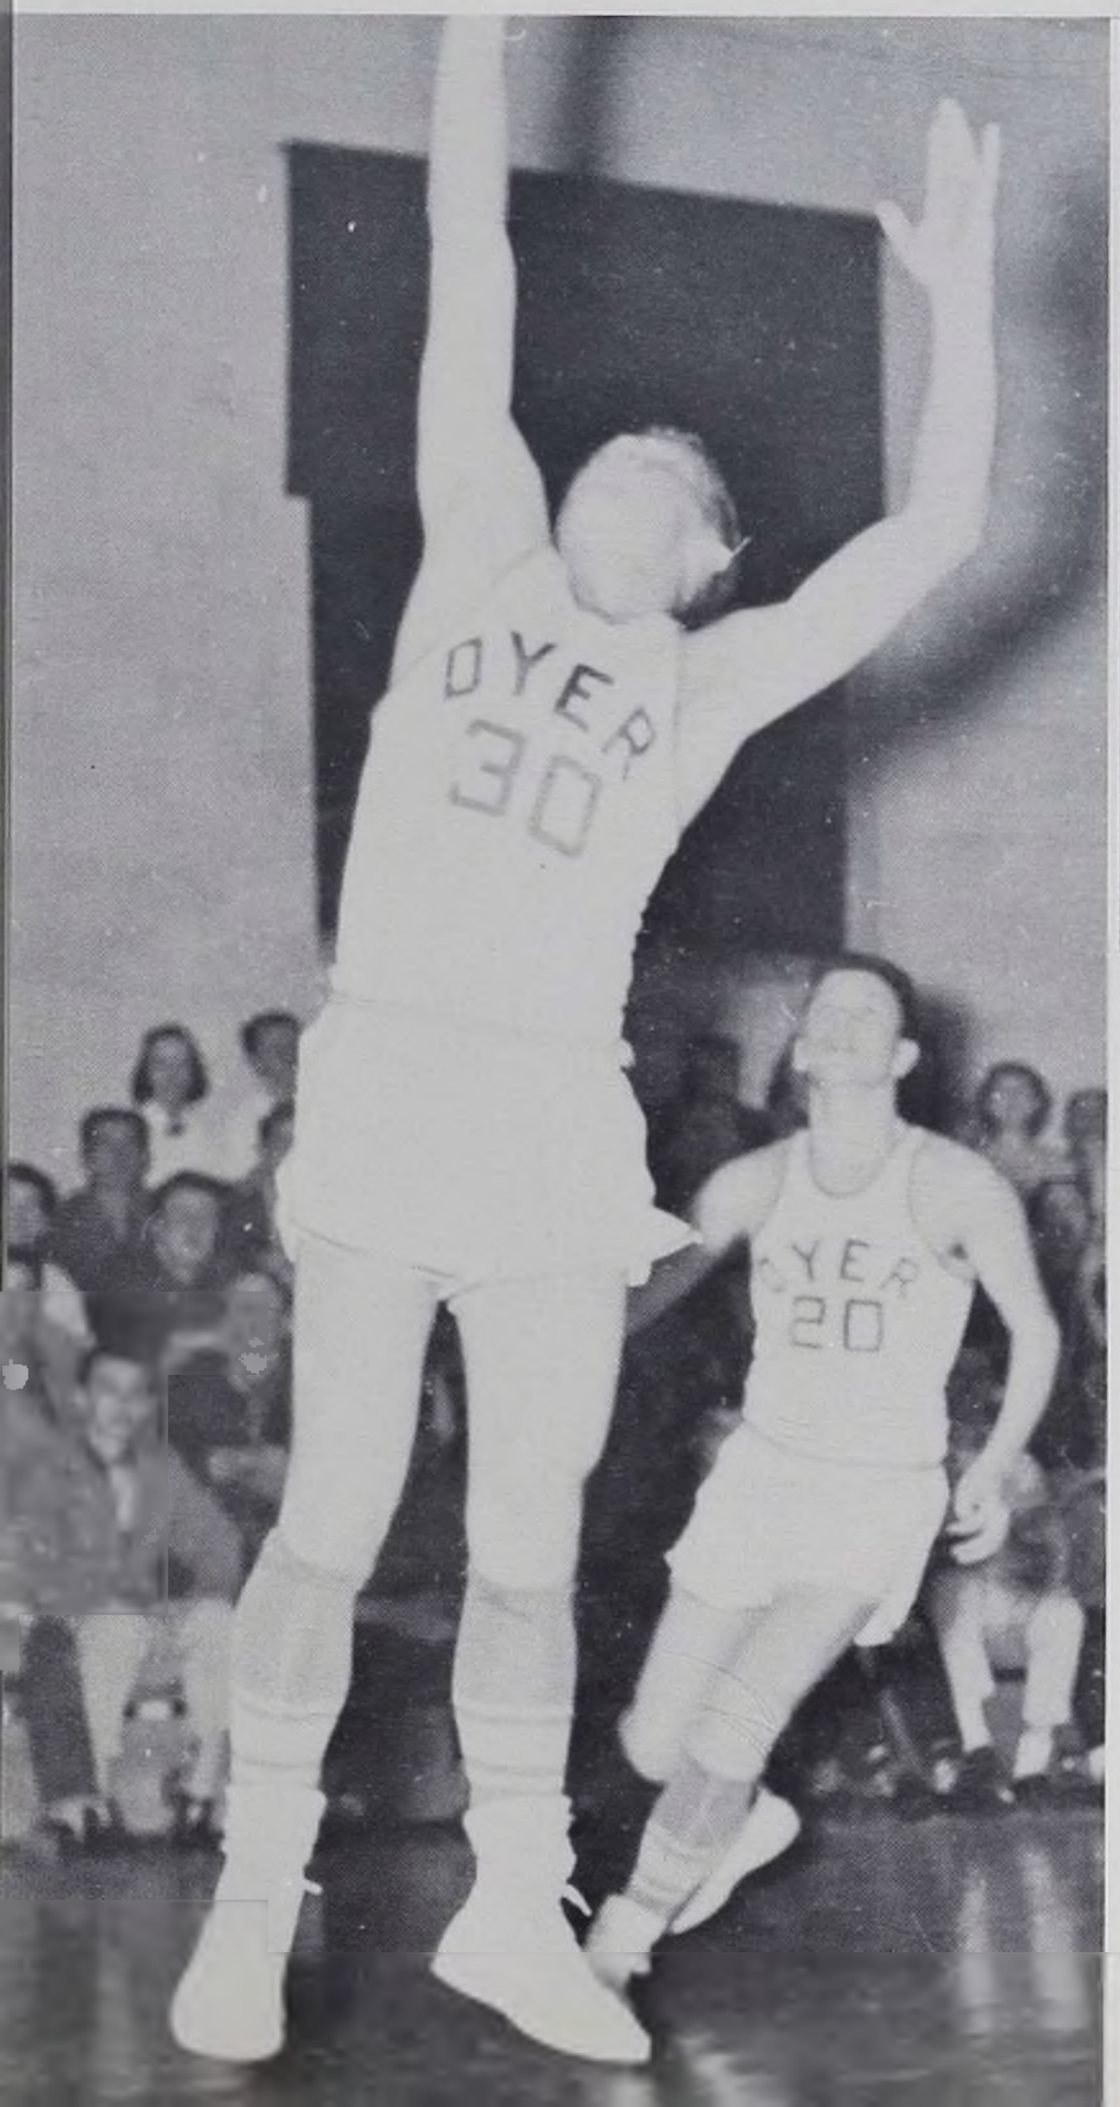
Good Passing, Clutch Shooting, and Practice of Fundamentals Helped Dyer Capture a Calumet Conference Victory against East Gary.

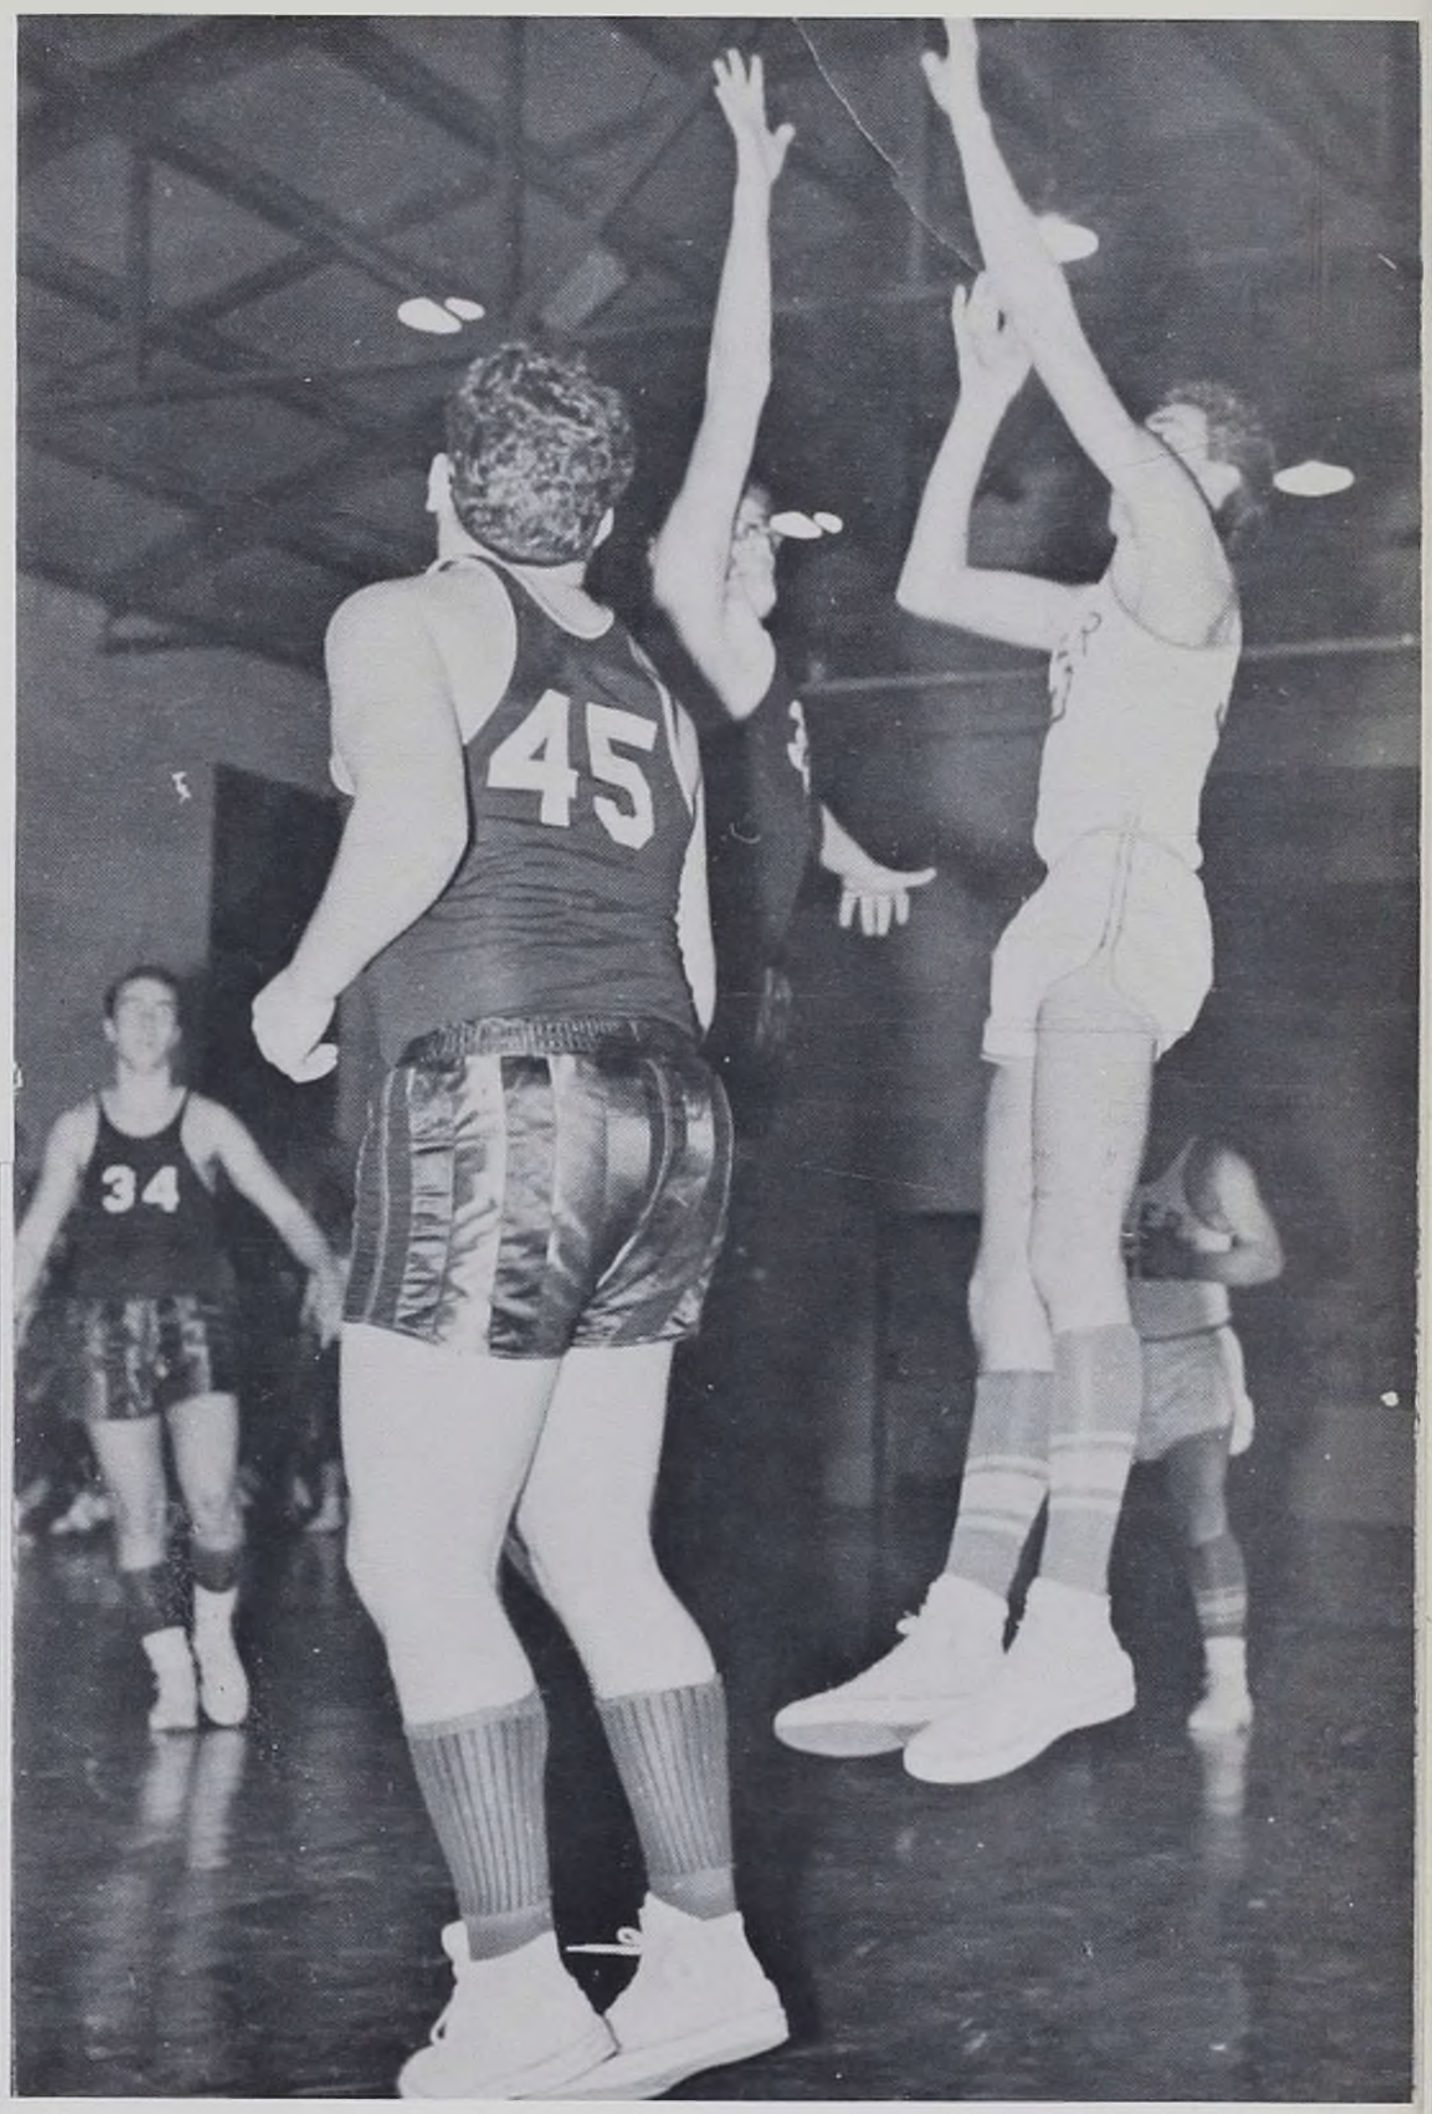
Al Betz, on a fast break, passes off, and Dyer scores again.



Bob Kilander breaks into the clear for 2 points against a determined East Gary team.

Betz (30) jumps for a loose ball in the East Gary game. In the background, Bob Schwenke (20) comes in to assist. The Indians sneaked by East Gary 57 to 52 in a real thriller.





Jerry Patchman gets 2 points against a stubborn but tiring East Gary team.

CHEERLEADERS

Just another shot of the cheerleaders who, under the leadership of their captain, Bee Collard, kept the school spirit alive at all times.

The golf team, one of the most underestimated athletic groups in school, showed its true color this year. Under the reliable coaching of Mr. Louis Iaconetti, this little power house rang up a 12 and 0 record. These boys, who use Lake Hills Country Club as home base, can be seen practicing there almost every possible day. Those pictured are: Captain Frank Stark, Richard Gerlach, Steve Curtis, Jerry Hilbrich, Dennis Hanson, and coach Louis Iaconetti. Coach Iaconetti is showing the boys the proper grip for a golf club.

Horsehide Hurlers

Coach Eberly takes time to pose before starting the coming baseball season. In his third year as head coach, Mr. Eberly is looking for his best season after breaking even last year with a six and six record. Eight returning lettermen will lead Dyer's title hopes. With a little luck and freedom from the injuries which plagued the team last season, they could win another trophy for Dyer.

Drama Club Is Another Senior First

The Senior Drama club was organized this year for the primary purpose of presenting a class play. The club members who took acting parts in the play, THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED, are pictured on another page. Other members worked on the production end, learning something about the backstage activities of the theater. BACK ROW: Davy Lane, Jim Topa, Tom Jostes, Steve Haley, Bob Schewenke, Jim Tewell, Judy Stark, and Lilly Fugate. 3rd ROW: Sharon Hanrath, Lilly Bukowski, Kay Bly, Sandy Lawrosky, Joann Sarbon, Monica Sabo, Barbara Brown, Sharon Gard, and Nancy Arndt. 2nd ROW: Mrs. Ainsley, Mary Templeton, Al Betz, Sue Plimpton, Irene Tkacz, Frances Schilling and Ron Hanson. 1st ROW: Sharon Dewes, Judy Norris, Sandy Krager, Judeen Thiel, Vera Miller, and Diana Duncan.

There seems to be an inexhaustable supply of books in the locker, thinks LeRoy Miller as Kay Bly puts still another on top of the pile he is carrying. Kay believes that next best thing to knowing what is in the books is to know where the books are.

Seniors In Action

It was an important day for the seniors when the graduating caps and gowns arrived. Although the measurements had been carefully taken a month or so previously, each senior had a small doubt as to whether his particular set would fit. In the picture at the right, Karen Dutton and Sharon Dewes are showing Joe Hegyi and Stan Huseman how they should be worn.

Many attractive pieces of furniture were made in Mr. Linley's wood shop classes. Coffee tables, book cases, and desks were popular items, and some fine work was done by the boys. This desk is a typical project, and is being given finishing touches by Mike Doolin, Greg Willy, and Rich Claus.

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.

Our gym, when completed, will be the scene of contests and merrymaking. It will seat 1600 and give to the physical education department the space needed for an up-to-date phys ed program.

This is the beginning of a new school and a new era. Now the old building overshadows the new, but soon the new will tower over the old, blocking it from sight but not from memory.

Our Dream is Coming True

This is just a silent corridor of sand and beams, meaningless at present; soon, however, it will be a noisy, bustling hallway, filled with students rushing to their lockers between classes, and flying from one demanding teacher to another.

Acknowledgements

It takes all kinds
Of people to create
A yearbook . . .
A lively and
Vibrant staff . . .
A sympathetic and
Cooperative faculty . . .
A wise and patient principal
Like Fred Jones . . .
An understanding sponsor
Such as Dorothy Ainsley . . .
A helpful photojournalist
Like Norman Brown
Of The Journal . . .
Skilled photographers as
Furnished by Root Studio . . .
Loyal advertisers . . .
And above all . . .
A vitally interested
Student body.

To all of these . . .
The Echo staff says,
"Sincerest thanks!"
